

2016-2017 Governor's Educator of the Year

Central School:

Beth Tormey has been a special education teacher for 36 years. She is highly successful in creating and maintaining a classroom environment that is rich in educational opportunity for all students. Her varied teaching strategies generate enthusiasm for the students as they learn. Her planning reflects her keen awareness of current educational trends and best practices, which she shares with colleagues. She goes above and beyond for her students each and every day and they adore her. Beth Tormey demonstrates an authentic passion for teaching and untiring commitment to student success and well-being. The staff and students at Central School are honored to have Beth Tormey as our Teacher of the Year.